Chinese High Command Announces Japanese Forces In Retreat

By JACK BELDEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHUNGKING, Jan. 5.—Japan's major offensive against Changsha, capital of Hunan Province, recoiled into a major defeat today, with Jap dead and wounded littering the path of the Nipponese flight.

The Chinese high command announced complete collapse of the Japanese drive and said the enemy had been hurled into full retreat.

Over 50,000 Casualties

Figures of the Japanese losses were staggering. Military advisers related that more than 50,000 Japs were killed or wounded in the three-day battle that ended when the Japanese broke and fled in the face of Chinese resistance.

Many thousands more Japanese troops—what was left of the two full divisions—were hemmed in by a Chinese encirclement maneuver and faced probable annihilation.

The Chinese stand at Changsha marked the first great defeat suffered by the Japanese since the start of the war.

Attempt To Raid R.A.F. Airport Costs Seven Planes Of Japanese

(International News Service)

RANGOON, Jan. 5.—Seven Japanese planes were missing today in a disastrous attempt to raid an R.A.F. airport in the Moulmein area, 100 miles to the East. American-made planes knocked down three Jap bombers over the target, and shot down four more as they attempted to escape back to their Thailand bases.

The R.A.F. station was not damaged and no planes were lost, according to accounts received here.

There were no details as to who piloted the defending fighter planes which broke up the enemy raid, but a strong force of American airmen have been operating in the Rangoon area for protection of the Burma road.

(A report from Singapore said American and British planes attacked a Japanese airport Sunday at Rangoon, Jan. 5.—Seven Japanese planes were missing today in a disastrous attempt to raid an R.A.F. airport in the Moulmein area, 100 miles to the East. American-made planes knocked down three Jap bombers over the target, and shot down four more as they attempted to escape back to their Thailand bases.)

One raider was destroyed by interceptors, and several more were reported to have been badly damaged that they were not believed to have reached their home airport.

(Tokyo claimed four defending planes were destroyed in a raid on Moulmein airport, and declared the airport at Bokypin near the southern tip of Burma had been captured.)

In all air combats in the Burma area, as well as over the Chinese section of the Burma road, American-made planes have proved definitely superior to the Japanese raiders. The attackers have suffered overwhelming losses in every engagement.

British Battling To Halt Japs On Malayan Front

New Defense Line Is Established About 270 Miles North Of Singapore

DOGGED REAR GUARD ACTIONS IN PROGRESS

Report American Fliers Seek To Aid British In Malayan Struggle

By S. A. WYKES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SINGAPORE, Jan. 5.—British imperial troops fought a series of dogged rear guard actions on the northwestern Malayan front today as the Japs attacked with powerful mechanized forces.

A new British defense line was reported established about 70 miles north of Kuala Lumpur and some 270 miles north of Singapore.

Latest advice from the battle front said the Japanese were using small tanks, armored cars, Bren gun carriers and infantry troops, fully supported in the air, in a determined effort to force the pace of the British withdrawal from the tin-producing Ipoh area.

The latest British defense line was assumed to be south of Bidar, where the road leading from the scene of a new Japanese landing in lower Perak state meets the main north-south highway.

Rear-Guard Action

British forces were reported fighting determined rear guard actions, with various British units "leaving-frogging" each other as they gradually fell back.

Under this method of withdrawal, one unit engages the enemy armored forces while another passes it en route south, after which the second unit makes a stand and the first falls back.

From other areas, however, the news was more encouraging, particularly reports of increasing use of aircraft to harass the Japanese in Thailand and elsewhere.

Undue Hardships Are Imposed Upon White Civilians In Manila

By JOHN HENRY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—While the civilized world indignantly received reports of harsh Japanese military rule in Manila, Nippon's hordes hurled themselves repeatedly against the stalwart defenders of the Philippines today trying for a knockout punch against a foe who refuses to fall.

Official disclosure of severe discriminations against white civilians of the conquered capital failed to elicit early comment from the state department.

Informed quarters indicated, however, that Secretary Hull would order an investigation to gather additional facts. The inquiry would be conducted through the Swiss diplomatic delegation, which is in charge of this nation's interests at Tokyo.

Undue Hardships

Manila's American population, especially, has been subjected to undue hardships, the war department said.

In a communique divulging information from field headquarters of General Douglas MacArthur, commander of U. S. forces in the far east, the war department asserted that all of Manila's white residents have been instructed to remain off the streets "under the penalty of being shot."

The edict was inflicted not only upon Americans, it was pointed out (Continued On Page Two)

Enemy Sustains Severe Reverse In Philippines

Attack On MacArthur's Forces Repulsed With Heavy Jap Losses

JAP PLANES STILL BOMB CORREGIDOR

Japanese Pincer Move Fails To Trap U. S. Forces On Island Of Luzon

By JOHN HENRY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The war department today announced that American forces in the Philippines have hurled back new Japanese onslaughts north of Manila to inflict reverses described as among "the most serious" sustained by the enemy since the war began.

The department disclosed that "at least 700 of the enemy were killed" in the assault upon Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces northwest of the captured capital city.

Japanese sky raiders meantime continued their bombardment of Corregidor Island at the mouth of Manila Bay, but again were repulsed by anti-aircraft batteries at Fort Mills.

Corregidor Attacked Again

Fifty-two bombers staged a three-hour attack upon Corregidor—the third in three days—but, according to the war department, inflicted only slight damage.

In contrast, four of the Mikado's war vultures were shot down and as many were hit.

Tactics pursued by the Japs in the invasion of Luzon, the war department asserted, have been foiled.

The invading forces sought to crush their greatly outnumbered foes in a pincer operation from north and south, but when the jaws of the mighty pincer snapped, Gen. MacArthur's troops were out of danger.

This strategic getaway by the defense units, the war department asserted, necessitated the Japs' lethal frontal attack, which resulted in "relatively small" losses for the American-Philippine troops.

February 16 Is New Registration Date Announced

Men Between 20 And 44 Inclusive To Register In Nation On That Date

PROCLAMATION IS MADE BY PRESIDENT

Other Registrations Of Age Groups Expected To Be Ordered Later

By JACK VINCENT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Moving to mobilize the full man-power of the nation that is available for actual military service, President Roosevelt today issued a proclamation ordering all men between 20 and 44 inclusive to register on Feb. 16 under the new draft law.

Officials at the national selective service headquarters in Washington estimated that 9,000,000 men will register on that date.

It was emphasized that men now registered under the first draft act which covered only men from 21 to 35, inclusive, would not be forced to re-register.

There already are approximately 17,000,000 men registered under the old law.

With the new registration on Feb. 16, approximately 26,000,000 men will have been registered.

Significantly, President Roosevelt called for registration of men liable to military service first although the new draft law covers all men from 18 to 64 inclusive.

Other Registrations To Come

Mr. Roosevelt was expected to issue similar proclamations later setting another date for registration of men from 18 to 20, and a third date for registration of men between 45 and 65.

Approximately 900,000 men were called into the army under the first draft law up to Jan. 1. Army officials refuse to say how many men will be called up this year. There still are approximately 1,000,000 men in class 1-A, available for immediate (Continued On Page Seven)

Mercury Falls After Big Snow

Temperatures Close To Zero Mark Recorded In County After Six-Inch Snow Fall

HIGHWAY CREWS WORK ALL NIGHT

Temperatures close to zero were recorded in some sections of the county this morning, following the first blast of winter which has been noted this year, a six-inch fall of snow which started Saturday evening covering the ground and making auto traffic difficult and dangerous.

When the snow first started falling, State Highway ashing crews started out to ash the hills and curves to protect motorists, but as the snow continued to fall the snow plows were hauled out and an all-night battle was started. The crews worked on thru Sunday, and by today, most of the roads were in good shape, although some men are still out today mopping up. Superintendent E. O. Reed stated. Measurements by the highway department men, showed the snow to be six inches deep at the highway garage. The snow was of the light, fluffy variety, which will pack down some, the U. S. Weather Observing station reporting only 3.8 inches of snow, figuring an inch of snow for each tenth of an inch of precipitation.

The official temperature this morning was seven above zero, but some of the colder spots in the county, reported marks just a degree or two above zero.

City street department men were busy also ashing the hills as soon as they could be gotten onto the job, and all hills were taken care of, as soon as possible.

"Seven thousand five hundred prisoners have now been rounded up at Bardia."

"Axis forces holding strong defensive positions covering Halfaya yesterday were heavily shelled and continuously attacked by air."

Eight thousand Axis troops, the last formidable force behind the main battle line in Libya, were under heavy pressure today between Halfaya Pass and the Egyptian border town of Sollum. The same tactics that reduced Bardia were being applied to this remaining pocket of resistance—which was under a two-way land and batteries preparatory to a final charge.

May Take Tax From Pay Checks

Speculation On New Tax Plans

Collection - At - The - Source System Is Being Considered At Washington

NEW PROPOSALS ARE CONSIDERED

By GRIFFING BANCROFT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—While the amount of the forthcoming new tax bill continued to be a matter of intense speculation, legislative fiscal leaders today are virtually agreed on at least one phase—that almost every pay check in the nation will be reduced before the wage earner receives it.

How much the government will take in this collection-at-the-source system, or just how it will work, are matters still to be ironed out. But there seems to be no doubt that income taxes will rise, and that these steeper levies can be collected in no other way.

Proposals range all the way from a federal take of around five to some 30 per cent of the country's payroll. Some hold that in addition to collecting an income tax by this method, the government also should put into effect an enforced savings plan—taking even more from the pay check and returning it to the workers after the war.

To Face Difficulty
Many individuals, especially in the lower and middle brackets, are going to have difficulty in meeting the already greatly increased income taxes on last year's earnings which fall due in March, legislators pointed out.

If these levies are hoisted again, it is held, many people actually will be unable to save enough to meet the bill. The answer to this is to force them to do it—by taking the money before they get it.

On the other side of the picture is taxation to prevent inflation as well as to produce revenue. This is the basis of the enforced savings idea—to take purchasing power away from the people during the war boom, and return it to them during the post-war depression.

but also upon Germans and Italians, who, with the Japanese, comprise the axis triumvirate.

Action of the Japs "imply the contemplated internment of the white population of the city without regard to citizenship," the war department said.

Estimate 30,000 White
An estimated 30,000 of Manila's 600,000 population are white. About 8,000 are Americans.

The white race in general was bombed with abusive propaganda dropped from Manila skies by Japanese aircraft.

Rising Sun war planes also uncoiled a rain of pamphlets designed to persuade gallant Filipino fighters to lay down their arms.

"Harsh treatment" of white persons in Manila, the war department noted, is "in marked contrast to the treatment previously accorded Japanese civilians by American troops."

Long before the city was seized by Japan militiamen three days ago, MacArthur informed the war department that Nippon's nationals had been treated as courteously as possible. In the United States, especially, precautions were taken to avoid offensive treatment of resident Japanese.

Wrathful Resentment
MacArthur's reports did not amplify the penalties meted out to Americans, but his terse description was sufficient to produce a wrathful resentment throughout the nation.

Official Washington recalled the existence of a tacit agreement between the United States and Japan for consideration treatment of nationals on enemy soil.

As the Nipponese tightened their grip on Manila, it became apparent to military observers that the invaders' invading legions will try a "knockout blow" against MacArthur's command, the object being to annihilate American-Filipino defense troops and complete the conquest of the Philippines.

Announcement by the war department that Corregidor island was attacked again from the air and that the pressure of enemy ground operations increased northwest of Manila led experts to believe that Japan will not be content with merely containing MacArthur's forces in their present position.

The war department said 21 planes bombed Corregidor, America's stronghold at the mouth of Manila bay.

"Only minor damage to installations and slight casualties" were sustained by the stoutly garrisoned island, the war department stated, adding that "four enemy bombers were shot down and others damaged by our anti-aircraft batteries."

JAPANESE MEET MAJOR DEFEAT IN HUNAN PROVINCE

fered by the Japs since they ignited the Far Eastern conflict with their sneak raid on Hawaii.

It also marked the third occasion in the Sino-Japanese war that the Japs have met disaster at Changsha.

Jap Drive Broken
Brilliant Chinese counter-attacks broke the Japanese drive on the city late Sunday and soon the surviving Nipponese were fleeing from Changsha outskirts.

Retreat of the remnants of two Japanese divisions was blocked by swift Chinese capture of ferry stations on the banks of the Liutang and Laotao rivers north of Changsha.

Today's communique announced that the "two enemy divisions face annihilation." Their supply lines have been slashed and their left flank exposed when the Japs began retreating to the northeast, setting fires as they fell back.

Start Conflagration
Before withdrawing, the Japanese started a large conflagration in Changsha's outskirts, military dispatches said, setting fire to a hospital, schools and a number of schools and dormitories of Yale College in China.

An official communique stated that east of Hunan Province Chinese troops launched a counter-offensive up toward the middle Yangtze Valley and recaptured Kaon, 35 miles south of the important rail center of Nanchang, capital of Kiangsi Province.

Counter-Offensive Seen
Chungking, Jan. 5.—With the cream of Japan's Asiatic land army annihilated at Changsha with a loss of 50,000 men, Chinese military officials today predicted a general counter-offensive aimed at dislodging the enemy not only from China but from Thailand and French Indo-China as well.

Army leaders said that China's victory at Changsha definitely marked beginning of a full-scale Chinese offensive "to drive out the Japanese and prevent their exploitation of occupied areas."

Virtually all sections of the Chungking press called for immediate action against the Japanese while their forces are still reeling from the Changsha impact.

The influential newspaper Takung-Pao said that Thailand and Indo-China should be occupied immediately by Chinese forces "pending their disposal at some future peace conference."

Warning that the Chinese people would be in grave difficulties if Singapore falls and the Burma road is severed, the paper called for "all-out" Chinese war moves, including the loan of Chinese man-power to Britain and the United States.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Thousands of Chinese troops have already arrived in Burma for service under Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell, commander in chief of the united armies in the western Pacific area.)

The press hailed creation of a unified command in the Far East as a "distinct advance" in allied war strategy. Appointment of Gen.issimo Chiang Kai-Shek as commander in the Chinese theatre was termed "the highest expression of profound confidence in Chinese leadership ever bestowed by the western people on any Asiatic."

BRITISH RENEW LIBYA ATTACKS

troops were reported to be German, in contrast to the Bardia captives who were 6,000 Italians and 1,000 Germans. The situation of these forces is reported to be "precarious."

Retreat Cut Off
More than 300 miles to the west the main body of the Axis Libyan army under General Erwin Rommel was reported to have dug in on both sides of Agedabia, after being cut off from retreat to Tripoli. The British are bringing up reinforcements for a final battle.

Meantime, smaller groups of German and Italians were reported to be digging in 175 miles west of Agedabia at Sirte, the next defensible base on the route to Tripoli. Rainy weather has hampered operations in the desert battlefield during the past few days, and interfered with the efforts of both sides to bring up reinforcements and supplies for the final big battle which is expected to settle the third Libyan campaign.

In this preparation the advantage lies with the British who can depend more on naval supply lines, and their continued air superiority.

NEW SESSION OF CONGRESS OPENS

dents has been engaged in conferences with Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

May Not Speak in Person
While the president usually delivers messages in person, leaders said there was a possibility the message might be sent to congress for reading by clerks.

The senate was faced with the immediate task of passing a revised house-approved price control bill, which is designed to limit inflation during the war.

House leaders said their immediate task is to frame the huge annual budget bills, including many millions for war efforts.

While Mr. Roosevelt has said that $50,000,000,000 probably will be spent during the year, it was possible that the budget might be somewhat lower, with supplemental bills during the year making up the total.

Leaders were optimistic over prospects for burying partisan politics and past quarrels, despite the fact that congressional elections are to be fought out this year.

Conscience is a help, but the greatest aid to virtue is a set of watchful neighbors.

New Castle street department employees and the State Highway department ashing crews had quite a busy week end, as it became necessary to ash and re-ash many of the hills and curves in the city and district, because of the slippery condition of the roads.

A LESSON FROM THE HORSESHOE NAIL

How many people living today, remember the story about the kingdom being lost for the want of a horseshoe nail? It might be something for us to think about in these days of rationing different things in our country, for instance:

What is going to happen to the man who, feeling that he was going to have work, has gone out into the country and has carefully budgeted his income, built a home for he and his family, and expected to drive back and forth to work. After so doing, he finds all the necessities of life have risen and are continually rising. Now, after we take his automobile away from him, how is he going to get back and forth to work, to pay his honest debts? We feel that it will be impossible to run as large a country as this is without the manufacture of all things, and we all know by past experience that that is what has made our country. We feel that everything should be put forth to manufacture all we can for defense, but in so doing, we must have the necessary workmen, the necessary conveniences, and the necessary tools to do this thing, and do it right.

We realize that a number of the unemployed, on account of changing the manufacture of certain articles, can be employed on defense, but we all realize, that not all of them can be. The farmer will have to have machinery; the manufacturer will have to have tools; merchants will have to have goods to sell, or no one will have money to buy defense bonds. We should all think seriously about the horseshoe nail.

For the want of a nail, the shoe was lost.
For the want of a shoe, the horse was lost.
For the want of a horse, the rider was lost.
For the want of a rider, the battle was lost.
For the want of a battle, the kingdom was lost.
All, for the want of a horseshoe nail.

MARTHA JO HARRIS IS BRIDE OF DR. G. VILSACK

In keeping with an old time superstition, a six-pence to tuck in her bridal shoe to bring her luck, was one of the wedding gifts of Martha Jo Harris, daughter of the David G. Harris of Clairton, when she became the bride of Dr. G. Ray Vilsack, son of the Maurice Vilsacks of Beechwood boulevard.

The wedding ceremony took place at 11 o'clock Saturday morning in St. Paul's Cathedral, Pittsburgh, the bride being attired in an ivory satin gown designed with a sweetheart neckline and a stately train. Rosepoint lace was used for her cap and ivory tulle for her veil, and for something old which brides traditionally carry, she chose an heirloom handkerchief. Her arm bouquet was of white orchids and bouvardia.

Mrs. David R. Harris as matron of honor wore a violet tulle dress made with fitted bodice and full skirt trimmed with white ruffle. Her violet satin and tulle muffs were decorated with white spray orchids, frosted in pink.

Yellow and white spray orchids adorned the hyacinth hued satin and muffs. The bridesmaids wore of the same color. The bride asked Dr. Vilsack's two sisters, Mrs. John L. Propst and Mrs. Edward E. Seifert, and Kay Anderson and Betty Lou Orr of New Castle to share these honors. Their tiny hats were bows of velvet matching their dresses.

Dr. Vilsack, a lieutenant in the Medical Reserve Corps at Camp Grant, had John L. Propst to be his best man, William A. Seifert, Jr., William E. Porter, Edward E. Seifert, John A. Smith, David R. Harris and Dr. William Everhart ushered.

A wedding breakfast and reception in the University Club, supplemented the ceremony.

Dr. and Mrs. Vilsack plan to make their home at Rockford, Ill., near Camp Grant.

The David G. Harris family, were former residents of New Castle, making their home on Garfield avenue, prior to moving to Clairton.

Attending the wedding from here were the bride's aunt, Mrs. George A. Rigov, Mrs. Esther Anderson, Miss Anna Perry, Miss Lillian Perry, Mrs. W. A. Strimater, Mrs. John C. Speer and Mrs. William Koonce.

Vows were exchanged at 9:30 o'clock before an altar beautifully arranged with palms and ferns. The Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita officiated, using the single ring ceremony. Mrs. Frances Colao, organist, provided the appropriate organ music.

Her fingertip veil was caught with a crown of orange blossom pearls, and she carried Madonna lilies. Her only jewelry was an heirloom of the family, a tier diamond necklace, a wedding gift of the bride's mother.

Miss Anita Sacco, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor, was attired in a gown of rose taffeta, similar to that of the bride's, with blue accessories. She carried Briarcliff roses, and her headpiece was of fresh flowers and meline. Clemente Pelosi served the bridegroom as best man.

ALL-OUT EFFORT FOR WAR

THAT the United States is rapidly gearing itself for an all-out war effort against the Axis is demonstrated by the order banning the sale of new automobiles pending the completion of a rationing system under which the cars now in dealers' stocks and a few which may be made in January will be sold to those engaged in vital defense or other services who are in direct need of them.

Drastic curtailment of tire manufacture, necessitated by America's dependence upon the Far East for rubber, and virtual stoppage of manufacture and sale of new automobiles will have some effect upon the economic life of the nation as it has been developed in the last two or three decades. Automobile dealers will need fewer employees henceforth, particularly in the sales departments, and states, dependent almost entirely upon revenue from car registrations and gasoline taxes for revenue to build and repair roads, will suffer a decrease in tax income.

Many of the workers engaged in the great automobile industry are already making the sinews of war and the remainder will be put to war work as rapidly as possible. Plants which produced more than 5,000,000 automobiles and trucks last year will now produce tanks, army cars, cannon, airplanes, machine guns, ammunition and a myriad of other articles essential to the equipment of a modern army.

There is bad news for the Axis in the action of the Washington government in transferring all the facilities of the vast automobile industry from peace-time production to the war effort. This industry is already producing armament in a volume that was undreamed of two years ago. Soon it will be doubling the present output and doubling it again. American industry is now called upon, as much as American manpower, to produce whatever is necessary to defeat Hitler and the Japs. The job is a huge one, but American industry has never fallen down on any job and the manner in which it will perform this one will soon be reflected in the headlines.

Japan, now achieving minor initial successes with meager stores of armament and oil which it hoarded over a period of years, will soon begin to regret Pearl Harbor when the avalanche of America's wrath engulfs its tiny speck of the earth's surface.

PLANES AT SINGAPORE

Everything indicates that the impending struggle for Singapore, commonly accounted the keystone in the Allied strategic structure in the Orient, will include one of the greatest air battles in history.

While both the ground forces and the fleets will be engaged in a death grapple before the Singapore engagement ends, the fight overhead is certain to rage with a ferocity that may set a new record for aerial combat.

All the planes the Singapore defenders can muster from Britain, America, Java, Australia, Burma and China will be concentrated at the end of the peninsula. It is plain that all the objectives in the Singapore region so far taken by Japan are to be used as bases for the air attack on the port unquestionably to be launched by Tokyo simultaneously with a sea onslaught timed to an attempt at a new infantry advance down through Malaya. That advance can be achieved only with the last degree of desperation.

But the Japanese can be expected to attempt it and in doing so to put everything they have available into the air. The defenders are mobilizing to meet them plane for plane and to break Japanese air power for the duration of the war.

MOSCOW STRATEGY

Conferences between Anthony Eden and Josef Stalin, attended also by Chinese and Turkish representatives, rival the Roosevelt-Churchill conversations in Washington in their bearing on the prosecution of the war by the Allies. They have to do chiefly with keeping Hitler so completely occupied in Eastern Europe that he will have little opportunity for major campaigns elsewhere. Russia continues in her role of doing that job in a thorough manner.

Participation of Turkey in the conferences may forecast that nation's determination to oppose any Hitler attempt to swing cross the Dardanelles to get at the British in the Near East. That can become a very important front in the war. The Hitler aim would be to drive to Suez and the Indian Ocean to effect a juncture with the Japanese, should Singapore fall. But if Turkey fights with British assistance Hitler will find it a difficult job to get across the Dardanelles, to say nothing of the subsequent drive through mountain and desert terrain across Asia.

The Russians are not only giving Hitler pause by their victorious counter-thrusts at the Nazi eastern front but they can do much to harry the Japanese by keeping strong forces in a threatening position along the Manchurian border and by collaborating with Britain and America in the air campaign against Japan as it develops. No one is forgetting how vulnerable Japan is to air raids from the Siberian coast.

And when the Allies are ready for them the Japs, now becoming so gay aerially on several fronts, will find it necessary to concentrate all the air equipment they can command on the home front in an effort to survive.

Those good old horse-and-buggy days may be nearer than we think.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHILDREN'S HABITS TRYING

"Dear Dr. Myers: I have long been a reader of your articles. I have received much help from them in the rearing of my 10-year-old son. If I had had access to such material when my children were infants I might not now be writing you.

"This morning after breakfast I lost patience with my 21-year-old son. After the boy and his father had gone to the office I read your article on Charity of parents toward their adolescent children. Can you offer me any advice for my problem?

"This, our oldest son, has formed a habit of snuffing, which has continued for two years. Sometimes he seems to control it better than at others.

Bad Nervous Habit

"Following a cold I have counted the frequency of these snuffs and they occur about every 20 seconds. This boy since early childhood has been troubled with nervous, facial twitches, such as twisting his nose or stretching his eyes. These were annoying, but we tried to regard them as childish habits to be ignored. Our efforts at checking them were entirely wrong, as we pleaded with him not to do it, as in the case of biting his nails.

"Physically, he has always appeared to be a perfect specimen, and above average mentally—an honor student in school, and a very affable, sweet-tempered youngster always. Twitching of the nose and biting of the nails continued throughout high school. The last few years he has left off the nail biting and only occasionally makes a facial grimace; but the snuffing habit which has developed seems worse than the others."

Doctor's Reply

Answer: I can sympathize with you, for I know that you have grown very anxious and disturbed about your son. Please do not condemn yourself for having scolded him in earlier years for his habit spasms; you thought you were doing the best; if you had it to do over again you would now take him to a nerve specialist. The thing to do now is to interpret the snuffings as just the same kind of a nervous manifestation as was the facial twitching. Persuade him to go to a nose and throat specialist first.

Then, if the habit continues, and it probably will, to a nerve specialist. Please do not suggest medical aid as a condemnation or as a means of your personal relief.

Mother Can Help

Since you are a loving parent, it is not your comfort you are seeking, but his relief from the awful suffering he now must endure. Please, mother, never again suggest to him to stay away from company; urge him to go and have as good a time as possible. He is already very self-conscious. The more he mixes the more social courage and self-regard he will gain, and the more, therefore, he will be able to correct the habit.

Try to school yourself to enjoy his company, engaging him in conversation, making him feel that he is worthy and is loved in deed as well as in words. The biggest problem is yourself; harder to correct your habit of annoying him than for him to correct his snuffing; when yours is corrected, his may have disappeared. It will be a glorious victory for all when you succeed; and what a difference for your happiness and his.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Why is it usually unwise for a young married couple to delay having children for several years, assuming they want children by and by?

A. Delay unduly long might render them unable to have children, and they tend year by year to want more ease and luxury and to exercise less self-sacrifice. Besides, as they grow much older they may be poorer parents than while younger.

The girl around the corner from me who can afford but one new outfit a season makes the grave mistake of investing her hard-earned salary in clothes that become tiresome to the eye long before they can be renewed. What clothes are of this category, you ask?

Conspicuous hats. If you must wear the same hat seven days a week, select one that will cause your friends to think: "What—that hat again! Dresses that are made of decided contrasts, vivid colors, brilliant shades, fads and ultra styles. A girl who has walked by under my window for months has, in her last several upstanding quilts. They interested me for a few weeks, since when they caught my eye each time. Of a conservative hat I should have been less conscious. Another neighbor, across the street, has turned out in the same conspicuous plaid day after day until I really wait for it. Were her only business suit something a little more conservative? I would be conscious of her—a very attractive woman—instant of the fact that she has to wear her clothes until I tire of looking at them.

Question: How many courses are there at both a formal and informal dinner?—Bride.

Answer: Formal dinners of numerous courses were once very fashionable; but now diners count their calories since we all want to be slender. Even the most formal dinner does not now consist of no more than—hors d'oeuvre, soup, fish, entree, roast, salad, dessert, coffee. At less formal dinners, the entree or the fish may be omitted and at the very informal dinner there may be but four courses—hors d'oeuvre, fruit cocktail or soup for the first course, the meat course, salad, dessert, coffee.

League Of Nations May Get Another Trial
United States Cannot Lose Another Peace
What Will Follow After War Is Discussed

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—That our side won the last war but "lost the peace" is a remark to be heard, generally several times, in the course of every discussion of the kind of terms it'll behoove the world to agree on at the end of our present conflict. Presumably we and the rest of the democracies, including or plus Russia, will dictate 'em, and the Axis bunch, supposedly with all their fuhrers, Tokyo militarists, duces and sympathetic caudillos liquidated, will have to acquiesce, whether they like our conditions or not. It won't be to our interest, though, to lose another peace. So what we'll need to dictate will be some form of one that'll stick.

There are pretty sure to be differences of opinion on that subject.

One school of thought's to the effect that Woodrow Wilson had the right idea, with his League of Nations plan, but that we Americans queered the whole thing by refusing to go into the league. Argueurs along this line severely pan the congressional isolationists of that period, who voted against Yankee participation.

Having been grown up and a listener-in on the debate, while it was progressing, I can't put forth the recalcitrants made out a fairly good case. The league, as outlined by Woodrow, was to settle international disputes peaceably, if possible, but, if some single power or group of countries refused to accept a league award and took the warpath, then the league aggregation were to be bound, jointly, to lick the bawky outfit into submission. In other words, if a war did start, every league nation automatically was to be in on it. The anti-league statesmen didn't like to commit the United States, sight unseen, to such a bargain.

Another League?

Today a post-war league or something similar to it is a scheme that has its advocates.

Another school of thinkers maintains that a post-war league, inclusive of all nationalities, shouldn't be our objective—that the democracies' job is to lick the totalitarian—dominated peoples so flat that they'll completely disintegrate (Continued On Page Five)

The World and the Mud Puddles

TOO MUCH HYSTERIA

There is great danger just now of too much hysteria among the people of this country. Unfortunately, the newspapers seize upon every alleged event and fling "sare" headlines across their front pages and add fuel to the flame.

Now, in California there are many Japanese. Years ago, aided and abetted by the Labor racketeers, the Legislature of the State of California passed laws forbidding Japanese to own any real estate within the State. The reason was obvious. The Japanese living in the State were, for the most part, agriculturists. They would not join any Labor organization. They worked upon their little farms and gardens day and night. They knew no hours. They knew nothing about minimum wages, and they would not go along with the Labor racketeers, and California has always been an easy prey for the Labor racketeers.

As time passed, the Japanese raised families. The children became natural citizens and bought real estate. Today about eighty per cent of all garden products raised in the State of California is produced by the Japanese. Most of these Japanese have no sympathy with Japan and Japan's war. While the older Japanese cannot become citizens, the younger Japanese are citizens and I say, for the most part, pretty good citizens. Nevertheless, many of these Japanese are being herded off to Concentration Camps and the market price of vegetables is already starting to soar.

This condition is brought about, of course, by war hysteria. All Japanese are considered bad, as all Germans were considered bad in the last war and to a certain extent in this Man's war. There are many good citizens in this nation that are of German parentage—mighty good citizens, many of them—and many of the Japanese, even though they are not citizens, are not in any way in sympathy with Japan's ambitions today.

It is going to require a lot of common sense for the F. B. I. or any other of the nation's organizations, undertaking to lessen sabotage, in the case of the Japanese to separate the sheep from the goats. It is all right, I believe, to forbid the Japanese fishermen to operate from Pacific Coast ports. These fishing clippers are pretty big boats and they can carry a lot of material besides fish and the chances are that a good many of them would be carrying such materials for the benefit of Japan, but the tilters of the soil are a different breed of men from the fishermen and, as I say, extreme care should be exercised in handling these people.

DECEMBER 7, 1941.

Never this date shall come again
But Japanese must burn with shame,
Nor all their shrines and Holy men
Shall ever win them back to fame.

Long after peace is won and made
And safe for toes to land and sea,
And present hatreds cool and fade
Remembered still this day will be.

There have been villains of yore,
Vile deeds have stained men's book of years,
But naught, in all that's gone before,
So vile and foul as this appears.

December Seven! Oh, yellow race,
Your sons, their sons, nor all your kind
From memory can now erase
The shame this date will call to mind.

December Seven! Now mark it well,
This day will ever more proclaim
The crimes by which all Nippon fell
Into the foulest depths of shame.

Happigrams

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Do you remember Aesop's fable about the fox and the goat?

By an unlucky chance a fox fell into a deep well from which he could not get out.

A goat passed by and asked the fox what he was doing down there. "Oh, have you not heard?" said the fox; "there is going to be a great drought, so I jumped down here in order to be sure to have water by me. Why don't you come down too?"

The goat thought well of this advice and jumped down into the well. But the fox immediately jumped on the goat's back and up to the edge of the well, leaving the poor goat at the bottom.

"Goodbye, friend!" said the fox; "remember, next time—never trust a man in difficulties!"

And, remember too, that this fable was written long before the German fox jumped out of the well on the backs of the Italian and Japanese goats.

CITY OFFICIALS ARE SWORN IN

granted permission to relocate a pole at Butler avenue and Paul street because of numerous accidents which occur each winter at the intersection.
Director of Safety D. O. Davies introduced a bill providing for the regulation of motor vehicle buses here. It was sent to committee. The bill provides that the company or companies operating within or from within to points beyond the city limits to take out a license. The council retains the right to prescribe routes and requests a license fee 1-2 percent of the gross revenue of the company.

Glover Appointed
Director of streets, highways and public improvements Gibson presented a resolution which named Carmi Glover as commissioner of streets to succeed William G. Fleming who has been acting as commissioner since Major John Brettell returned to the army. The position, sewer commissioner, was left vacant. Glover was a unanimous appointee.

Director Gibson explained that when Major Brettell returns from the war he will have further recommendations to make.
After the business was concluded Mayor Charles B. Mayne, feeling it appropriate, stated that the former council, of which W. H. Dunlap was a member, had got along together in a splendid manner and believes the present council will do likewise.
Director Gibson thanked the public for honoring him in November. He said he proposes to cooperate with the mayor and other councilmanic colleagues and said "this is a wonderful city and we will endeavor to make it a more prosperous one. Any suggestions anyone has to offer will be acceptable," he concluded.

"This gives me an opportunity to express my sincere thanks to the people of New Castle," said Councilman Alexander, who was renamed in November for a third term as councilman.
"I have found all of the men with whom I have been associated to have been courteous and co-operative. True it is some of have disagreed at times, but all councils have got along harmoniously and at no time has personalities been injected into proceedings. Every member of council has multitudinous duties and I can say that whenever Mr. Gibson needs assistance he will receive it immediately."

Alexander concluded by stating that war conditions may call for unanticipated expenditures but the citizens may look forward to council spending any necessary monies as wisely as possible.
Controller Lockley said he desired to express his appreciation to the people for having returned him to office. He said that during his term co-operation had existed between the city council and he declared he would continue as in the past to do everything possible for the betterment of the city.

What's What At A Glance

as fighting units, and won't be able to reassemble 'emself "in at least 1,000 years," as I've heard it expressed. According to these reasoners, the Allies "lost the peace" in 1918 not because their terms weren't too hard, but because they weren't nearly hard enough.

Winston Churchill's notion appears to be not so much a League of ALL Nations, as a present and post-war Yankee-British alliance. He has no objective, seemingly, to taking in the entire collection of democracies (The Americas generally, the Chinese and all the German-occupied little countries, as fast as they're available), but a permanent U. S.-British hookup is what he emphasizes, and he hasn't intimated that he favors a league inclusive of the Axis alignment even after the Axis is totally skunked. I don't see how he can omit Russia, though.

The proposition advanced that Germans and Italians are all right—that they aren't the ones who are to blame—but that Adolf Hitler and the now despised Benito Mussolini are the miscreants. The answer is, however, that the masses of 'em fell for Adolf and Benito and that it never will be safe to trust 'em again, or they'll fall for future Adolfs and Benitos, though the current incumbents may be blotted out, unless they're put forever out of business AS masses, of their two particular breeds.

Japan Is Different
The Japs are a meaner problem yet. Finishing off Adolf and Benito MIGHT turn the democratic trick as to the Germans and Italians. That pair are only a couple of individuals, but the Jap militarists are a good-sized class.

So what about the peace conference, when it comes?
Some of the conferees will want an all-around World League. Some will want a league with only Japan left out. Some will want Russia left out, too, if it stays Soviet. Some will want an exclusively democratic league—no ex-Axis powers entitled to a voice in it. Winston Churchill will want a Yankee-British alliance, probably without prejudice to the smaller democracies' representation in it. Some will want Germany, Japan and Italy smashed up for all time. Some will favor admitting 'em, if they promise to reform.

These conferees will be kept guessing for quite awhile, as they try to hit on a peace that the victors can't conceivably lose.

These "typical American families" on the radio are frauds. A typical family couldn't survive that much trouble.

Coal Strike Was Top News Story In Pennsylvania

Wreck Of Buckeye Limited At Baden Was Also Big News Story Of Year

ELLWOOD CITY PROVIDED NEWS

By JOHN PAGET International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 5.—Pennsylvania's 10 top news stories during 1941 were highlighted by the violence-filled strike in the soft coal fields, where more than 26,000 workers in the "captive mines" and 25,000 sympathetic commercial miners halted production for the defensive steel industries for six days.

The wreck of the Pennsylvania railroad's crack Buckeye limited during a blizzard March 16 at Baden, Beaver County, also drew its share of national headlines. Five passengers were killed and 114 injured when the speeding flyer plunged into the icy waters of the Ohio river.

Investigators found a 30-foot length of rail had been torn from the railbed by saboteurs although signal wires connecting the rails were undamaged. The wreck occurred 20 minutes after the Manhattan limited passed the same spot carrying a party of 44 Russian engineers visiting America.

Another high-ranking story was the indictment March 28 of U. S. Circuit Judge J. Warren Davis, Philadelphia, now resigned; Morgan S. Kaufman, Scranton attorney, and ex-film magnate William Fox, New York. The trio was charged by a federal grand jury with conspiracy to obstruct justice and to defraud the United States by "selling" justice in bankruptcy appeals. The prosecution contended $27,500 was involved in two transactions. Fox, who pleaded guilty and acted as star witness, later was sentenced but an appeal is pending in federal court. Both Davis-Kaufman charges were nolle-prossed by the government.

after two separate juries failed to reach a verdict.

The longest session of the legislature in 99 years—193 days—also must be included in the best story list. When the closing gavel fell July 17, a total of 2460 bills had been introduced of which only 497 were piloted through both houses. Gov. Arthur H. James vetoed 81 of the legislative approved measures.

The defense-suppressed steel industry again jumped into the headlines in March when a four-day walkout prompted by the election of employee officers occurred at the Bethlehem plant of the Bethlehem Steel Co. The strike, which was marked by violence, ended March 28 when company officials and representatives of the steel workers' organizing committee, C. I. O., accepted a four-point arbitration pact.

Other leading stories were the marriage of Gov. Arthur H. James and Mrs. Emily Radcliffe case at Dolestown Oct. 1; the $76,000 holdup of two employees of the First National Bank of Stroudsburg Aug. 5; the acceleration of anti-sabotage activities including mobilization of the Reserve Defense Corps when war was declared; the $5,331 robbery of the First National Bank of Eldred, McKean County, and subsequent capture of the four bandits; and the $2,342 holdup of the Harrisville National Bank in Butler County and capture of the robbers, at Ellwood City.

High School Seniors Will Present Play

Modern Comedy Of High School Life To Be Staged Thursday Night

Jerry Potter Jack McCullough

The senior high school's play for the January class with an all-senior cast will be produced for the public Thursday evening in the senior high school auditorium. "The Prom King", the choice of the cast and of the coach, is a modern comedy of high school life.

School politics center around the question of who is to be the "prom king" and Jack McCullough and Gerald Potter in their respective roles of Don Bender and Steve Meredith are rivals for the honor. Don has money for unlimited favors and Steve has "position" and personality. Jack McCullough as Don Bender has an exacting character part; he has all the dull strategy of some very ordinary captain of a precinct and in his good-natured and unscrupulous determination to get himself elected, there is something so fresh and young that the audience is going sure to have a vague feeling that their politician has just graduated out of his rompers. Any way McCullough has the leading role of the comedy and he is said to acquit himself very well indeed.

Gerald Potter is cast for Steve Meredith, a role that any high school boy would be eager to play. Steve is "football captain, swimming champion, student council chairman, senior class orator, debater." Who else but Steve could hope to be elected "prom king" and who but Steve's "girl" could hope to be "prom queen"? The proverbial cloud in the sky is the fact that Steve's "girl" is a junior and the senior girls do a little organizing over that situation.

Jack McCullough is the son of Mrs. Mary McCullough of North Mercer street and Gerald Potter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Potter of East Washington street.

Seven-Year Term For Tire Theft Will Be Proposed

(International News Service) UNION CITY, N. J., Jan. 5.—With nation-wide tire rationing starting today, Herbert J. Pascoe, state senator-elect, announced he would ask the legislature to make theft of an automobile tire punishable by seven years in prison. "I can't think of anything meaner," he said, "than to steal a man's tire when he can't get another."

District Gripped By Cold Weather

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Jan. 5.—Freezing weather, with the mercury hovering around the 10 above mark, greeted work-a-day Pittsburghers and western Pennsylvanians today in the wake of the season's first heavy snowfall. Wartime restrictions, however, prevented weather bureau officials from predicting how long the cold spell would remain. The entire eastern seaboard, they did announce was swept by a heavy storm, blanketing the Pittsburgh area under a mantle from three to six inches in depth. Numerous minor accidents were reported.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Jan. 5.—Former Governor Gifford Pinchot is through with politics... That's the word affixed to the state capital from the forest's Pike county retreat... the two-time chief executive of the state, one of the most colorful figures in the state's history, is said to have made it clear that he will not be a candidate again for governor... He is reported to favor Lieut. Governor Samuel S. Lewis.

Pinchot will be 77 years old next summer... Recently, some of his supporters visited him to ascertain his views on the 1942 gubernatorial campaign... The independent Republican who tried for a third time in 1938, and lost to Arthur H. James, told the group he had no further political ambitions.

Thus the firebrand of Pennsylvania politics removed himself from the active political arena in which he made so much history... It wasn't often that Pinchot was able to see eye to eye with the Republican organization, but he managed to get along all right without its aid... In 1938 he refused to support James for governor and in the 1940 presidential election he announced himself in favor of Roosevelt... To the end of his political career he remained an independent.

Alaskans are now spending their winters in Pennsylvania... The slogan "Pennsylvania Has Everything" has even reached America's northern possession, the state department of highways reveals... A man operating a taxi service in Seward, Alaska, wrote the department shortly before the Christmas holidays for maps and travel literature about Pennsylvania... He said he planned to make an automobile trip this winter through the state... Other Alaskans are already visiting the Keystone State for a car with an Alaska license tag was seen at the state capital the day before Christmas.

U. S. Senator James J. Davis has no intention of retiring from next year's race for governor... In a letter to Thomas D. Caldwell, a friend and Harrisburg attorney, the Republican senator remarked: "I have been receiving a great many letters from all parts of the state on this subject, and I have been doing a lot of serious thinking about it. When the time comes for me to announce my intentions, if that is necessary, I shall be able to make myself perfectly clear on this point, and will not be pushed into a decision one way or another."

War Fund Goal Is Expected To Be Reached Soon

Over $10,000 Has Been Reported By Workers In Various Districts

CHAIRMEN ARE EXTREMELY BUSY

Just a week ago today W. W. Duff, chairman of the Lawrence county war fund campaign, met with his committee composed of Judge W. W. Brahm, N. E. Clark and William Dean of Ellwood City and launched the campaign throughout the county.

Harold McCulloch, chairman of the county war fund, carried Mr. Duff's messages of immediate action into the county through the various chairmen of the townships. George D. Reid, chairman of the business division, started his complete committee into real action while Clyde Whittaker, chairman of industrial division, assisted by Capt. Roger W. Rowland, made immediate headway by contacting the corporations in Lawrence county.

This was a week ago and today over $10,000 of the needed $40,000 quota has been raised and reports coming in from the various chairmen point to a successful campaign. Mr. Duff feels that this is an accomplishment made possible by the loyalty and interest of the entire committee and hopes that within another week he may announce to Lawrence county at large the successful completion of the chapter's share of the 30 million dollar war fund.

SOVIET DRIVE PERILS 150,000 HITLER TROOPS

of Moscow, wrecking barricades and driving the Nazis to the western suburbs, where the Germans are now being "mopped up."

Meanwhile, both the British and German radios in broadcasts heard by NBC and CBS quoted a Finnish report admitting that "during the last 24 hours the Soviet forces have launched violent attacks on the eastern Karelian front."

Report Captures

A supplementary bulletin said that during the capture of Byelov, southwest of Moscow and about midway between Kaluga and Orel, the Russians captured 10,000 shells, 50 anti-tank guns and 70 trucks and killed 800 enemy troops while wounding a "vast number."

On one sector of the Moscow front, this announcement added, 1,250 Germans were annihilated in two days of fighting, while on the Leningrad front 600 Nazis were killed and a large amount of equipment was captured.

Preventing the Germans from halting their retreat or establishing sheltered defenses, the Russians smashed forward through the terrific winter weather under the slogan:

"Give the enemy no rest until Germany become a battleground." "Our troops in a number of sectors," said a Soviet high command announcement, "frustrated German attempts to consolidate themselves and inflicted heavy losses in manpower and material upon the enemy."

Batter Nazi Forces

To the south of Moscow's blood-stained front, Russian forces battered at German forces at Orel and the industrial center of Kharkov in the Donetz basin. In those sectors the Nazis attempted counter-attacks with fresh reserves, but Russian advances said these assaults were repulsed and that the Soviets were "still advancing."

On the Moscow front recapture of Borovsk wiped out the most dangerous salient the Germans had driven into Moscow's defenses between Malyaroslavetz and Naro Fominsk, both of which have been recaptured by the Soviets.

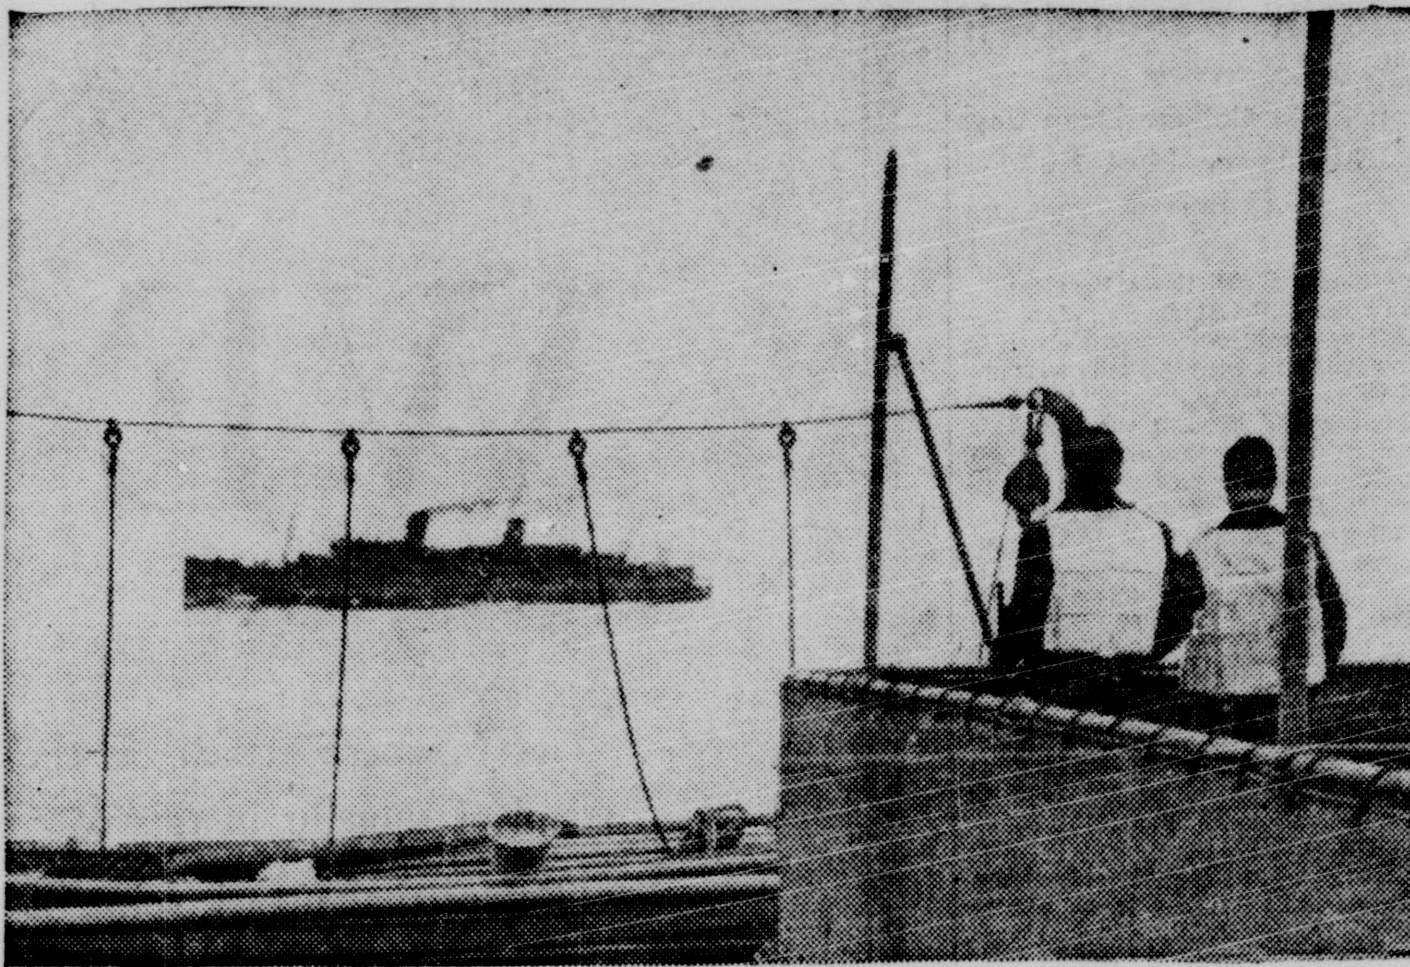

The Nazis in Moshaisk were threatened by frontal attacks and artillery fire and flanking blows from the south at Borovsk and from the north by Russians still advancing following their recapture of Volokolamsk. There were indications that these German contingents already are trying to retreat to Vyazma, 80 miles further west.

The Russians, increasing their encirclement pressure, were reported ready to spring a death trap on the Nazis in the Moshaisk sector to prevent the Germans from retreating.

Meanwhile, Soviet troops which recaptured Malyaroslavetz were declared to have slaughtered 10,000 German troops during the last six days of December. In the final attack that recaptured the town, the Communist newspaper Pravda said, the Russians routed two German infantry divisions and annihilated 1,000 men.

It is no crime to be stupid. The crime is to keep a stupid man on the job to endanger better men.

heavy enemy losses. It is estimated that at least 700 of the enemy were killed in this attack. Our losses were relatively small. This was one of the most serious reverses suffered by the Japanese invaders since the war began.

"The tactics pursued by the Japanese in the invasion of Luzon contemplated crushing the greatly outnumbered defenders between two invading forces operating as pincers from the north and south. The Japanese trap was closed but American and Philippine troops were not in the jaws. To this extent the Japanese strategy failed, necessitating yesterday's frontal attack which likewise failed.

"Enemy air attacks on the fortified island of Corregidor were renewed yesterday for the fourth successive day. Fifty-two Japanese bombers participated in the attack which continued for three hours. Material damage and casualties were slight. Our anti-aircraft batteries shot down four Japanese bombers. Four more were hit but reports of their destruction were not confirmed.

"There is nothing to report from other areas.

Military experts said the staunch stand of Corregidor against Japanese aerial attack was "most gratifying." So long as Corregidor stands, Manila Bay and Manila itself are useless to the Japanese as a base of operations.

Pupils At Glenmore Get Holiday Today

Sewage System Repairs Send 100 Back Home; Classes Resume Tuesday

One hundred Neshannock township grade school pupils were dismissed from classes today at the Glenmore school, along New Wilmington road, because the school's sewage system was inoperative.

The sewer line was broken Saturday while excavation for the building's new one-room addition was under way. Repairs crews labored over the week-end, but the pupils were sent home when it was learned the repairs could not be completed before noon today.

H. Gill Brown, president of the Neshannock district school board, said a meeting of his board scheduled for tonight will not take place until Tuesday night at 7:45. Classes at Glenmore will also resume Tuesday morning.

Excavation work for the two-room addition at Neshannock Consolidated school, Walmo, has been completed. The board expects new bids on the heating and electrical work by Friday.

FEBRUARY 16 IS NEW REGISTRATION DATE ANNOUNCED

military service and all of the 17,000,000 men who registered under the first draft law are now being reclassified in order to make even more men available.

So far only the army has used the draft law to obtain men, but the navy is expected to call for men under it soon.

The president issued a proclamation, under the powers granted him by the recent congressional amendments to the selective training and service act of 1940.

All male persons who were born on or after February 17, 1897, and on or before December 31, 1921, and who have not previously registered, will be required to register.

The president made no mention in his proclamation of the other two age groups which are required to be registered under congressional amendments to the selective service act—the 18 to 20 group, and the 45 to 55 group. Persons in these classifications are not liable to draft for active military service.

Secretary Knox Lauds Red Cross

Red Cross Workers Are Working Side By Side With Navy In Two Oceans

Secretary of the Navy, Col. Frank Knox, today urged everyone who believes in America to give support to the American Red Cross minimum fifty million dollar War Fund.

"It would be hard to comprehend a war without the Red Cross fighting by our side," said Secretary Knox. "I say 'fighting by our side,' advisedly, in every Pacific and Atlantic outpost of our Navy, the Red Cross is on the job."

Secretary Knox believes in the Red Cross and has seen it working in the recent bombing of Pearl Harbor and the fall of Manila. The American Red Cross is appealing to the nation for fifty million of dollars to be used for the boys in service be they on land or sea. There is an urgency to this appeal. It cannot take weeks or months to complete for battles do not wait for the fund to be raised.

Secretary Knox in commenting further on the Red Cross and its War Fund stated, "We of the Navy know the Red Cross. In every Pacific and Atlantic outpost of our Navy, the Red Cross has always been on the job. From Iceland to Manila Bay, the Red Cross Nurse and the Red Cross Field Director, already are in action, playing a role tremendously vital to our National Defense. Already American fighting ships have been stocked with blood plasma from the veins of Red Cross donors. Our vessels have been stocked with surgical dressings folded by volunteers in Red Cross work rooms. As in the past, the Red Cross has moved with traditional swiftness in meeting the emergency, in the days ahead the Navy must look to the Red Cross for far greater service. We must confront the enemy with every resource at our disposal. I consider the Red Cross an essential and integral part of our Navy. To you who believe in America, I say give your support to the Red Cross."

The Lawrence County Chapter has a goal of $40,000 to reach. Every citizen of Lawrence County is asked to make a contribution larger than any gift made to the Red Cross in the past.

In 1540, when De Soto passed through the territory now included in the state of Alabama, the Chickasaws, Choctaws, Creeks, Apalaches and Alabama Indian tribes were inhabiting that region.

Penn State College Dean Says Manpower Must Be Protected

(International News Service)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 5.—Our vast mineral resources will be of no value in winning this war unless we protect the manpower which can mine and process the minerals, Dean Edward Steidle of the School of Mineral Industries at the Pennsylvania State College said.

"Wise use of steel, coal, and petroleum will mean victory or defeat," he explained. "The United States can produce 50 per cent more steel than the combined Axis countries, as much coal, and about 75 times as much petroleum. Even if Germany acquires all the petroleum production of Rumania, we shall still be able to produce 24 times as much as the total under Axis domination."

In order to produce effectively, however, skilled labor must not be wasted, Dean Steidle pointed out. Urging the deferment of technical men in industry and of those being trained in technical schools, he recommended a uniform national procedure for draft boards, under legal control, so that the flow of mineral products may be uninterrupted.

"Millions of fighting men will require tens of millions of workers to supply the sinews of war," he said. "Mere numbers can accomplish little. We must have quality rather than quantity of armed forces."

Erie War Veteran Recalls Raising First U. S. Flag There

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., Jan. 5.—William F. Cruite, 73-year-old war veteran of Erie, considered the Japanese attack on the American flag at Hawaii not only an insult to the United States but to him personally.

Because 43 years ago, when he was a private with the first regiment of the New York Volunteer Infantry, Cruite raised the first U. S. Military flag over the territory of Hawaii.

"We were at the Presidio in San Francisco when the territory was to be annexed," he recalled, "and we were detailed as the first soldiers to take over the island."

"Well, we didn't have any transports. None were available. Finally they rounded up three old lumber hooks in the Alaskan Trade and we embarked for Hawaii on them."

"We were camped on an old race track right under Diamond Head," he continued, "and as I looked up at the old extinct volcano, I thought to myself, 'I'm going to put our flag on that mountain!'"

"We had a flag but no pole so I got a bamboo from a native and after the captain said it was alright, I started up the mountain. At the top we hoisted the flag. That was on Tuesday, August 16, 1898, and that was the first U. S. military flag raised above the territory of Hawaii."

COLLEGE STUDENTS FORM DEFENSE GROUP

(International News Service)

EASTON, Pa., Jan. 5.—The student Defense Council at Lafayette College, the first such group in this country, has taken steps to organize the undergraduates for an emergency. Air raid wardens were appointed, a campus fire department was organized, the construction of bomb shelters was started, and air raid warning siren was erected.

Several hundred students took part in constructing the bomb shelter, which is located on March Field and can accommodate over 200 persons at one time.

Jails are necessary. The criminal is out on bail, but we must have some place to keep the witnesses.

Huss Tells Story Of Situation Leading Up To Flight Of Hess

(Editor's Note: In two preceding articles, Pierre J. Huss, for eight years chief Berlin correspondent of International News Service, has described in detail how Adolf Hitler on Dec. 15, 1940, told of his plan to betray Soviet Russia by treacherous attack, carried out six months later.

Today, in the third of a series of four articles, Huss tells how this decision reached upon Goering and Goebbels—particularly upon Rudolf Hess, the "mystery man" of the war whose story he is now telling for the first time.

This dramatic instalment describes how the brilliant, fanatical Hess—100 per cent Nazi and 100 per cent anti-Bolshevik—worked himself into a state of emotion that finally sent him winging across the North Sea on a wild, fantastic plan to bring peace between England and Germany and a common front in a "holy crusade" against the Reds.

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright 1942, Reproduction In Whole Or Part Strictly Prohibited.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The men who had heard Hitler walked out in a sort of trance. They were carrying a great secret, sworn to silence and pledged to the task of preparing the military forces as well as the Reich itself for the job of mastering Soviet Russia. It overwhelmed them, keeping their minds in uneasy suspense and the nerves in a high-strung state.

Goering drove away in his baby blue car to his princely estate in the snow-covered woods out in Karinhall, some fifty miles from Berlin, and played like a good father with his baby daughter.

He wallowed on the floor and let the child crawl over him, shrieking and laughing until the actress mother, Emmy Sonneman of one-time film and stage fame, came to take her away for an afternoon nap. It gave Goering a chance to sit at his desk in the hunting room with the huge windows and figure out the staggering job facing his Luftwaffe for the coming spring.

Goebbels Is Home
A few miles distant, over the woods and hills of the same Schorfheide area, Joe Goebbels was home for the day like a faithful husband visiting wife and children in his Bogensee Villa, a low rambling building with a touch of the Spanish.

His still pretty but fading blond Magda, mother of five children by him and a son by a first husband, had put on her prettiest dress in expectation of the Fuehrer. He was coming out there for dinner, as he frequently does, and the children were on their best behavior to play with him before going to bed. It was all so familiar, and they all knew just what to do.

Goebbels stood in front of the blazing fire on the hearth and stared at the woods out beyond the French windows. He had much on his mind, what with the great new task of soon letting loose the flood gates of Nazi passion and pent-up bitterness against Bolshevists and Communists and keeping in mind the dates and charms of film and stage stars back there in the city of Berlin.

Ribbentrop returned to his office and lit a cigar, coldly assured within himself that the Fuehrer thought highly of him. The military went over to the Bendlerstrasse for a consultation with key men of the general staff but the moment had not yet come to tell them the things in mind.

Plans Filed Away
Strategic plans in any case were filed away against Russia in the proper pigeon holes; for the military it was merely a matter of switching and realigning the forces at their disposal and getting them into proper place for the moment designated by the Fuehrer.

But across the way from the chancellery and the foreign office, a silent man sat at his desk staring straight before him. Hess, brooding by nature and fanatical follower of Hitler in his quiet way, was celebrating an emotional triumph within himself. In August of 1939 he had broken down and cried and sobbed like a baby with shock and mortification when Hitler and Stalin signed the deal; he retired to a sanatorium like a spurned lover to recuperate in mind and spirit when England seriously declared war on Germany. All had come at once, sinking him into the blackest depths of despair since the days when a gassed lung from the trenches made his life hang on a thread.

He sat at his desk, trying to grasp what had happened. The Fuehrer had indicated that the war with England might soon be over. To Hess it was like the return of an undying love to his home and hearth. He was a friend of England; he was of that peculiar Nazi circle—favored and encouraged for a long time by Hitler himself—which felt that Germany and England were the chosen people of this earth, fated to rule and fit for a natural friendship.

Fanatical Nazi
He was also a fanatical Nazi, bitter against all things Communist and sworn hater of the gospels preached by Moscow. The Fuehrer had said that the time was here to smash Russia, and to Hess that meant that a new life was about to start. It was just a matter of going about and doing it the right way.

He sat there and dreamed of the great moment when England and Germany would be at peace. The weeks went by and Christmas and New Years came and went. Around Berlin the gossip mill was going full blast, speculating on what spring would bring and where the blitz would strike. Versions were a dime a dozen, fed by the Nazi propaganda machine in all its myriad forms. Behind the scenes the pace was equally furious but less smooth than had been anticipated after that meeting of December 15.

There was discussion and open differences of opinion between Goering and Ribbentrop, for example, on the proper way of proceeding to the kill. Ribbentrop was for smashing hard at England at the same time as at Russia; Goering argued that a double front going full blast at the same time would rest too heavily upon the shoulders of the airforce if not on the military as a whole.

Hitler's Favorite Game
Hitler was playing his favorite game of juggling all and saying nothing.

Hess had a favorite theory that once you told England in direct manner that peace was available at an honorable price and furthermore that into the bargain would come the smashing of Bolshevist Russia, the trouble in the West would be over.

He harped on numerous friends of Hitler and himself and Germany over in England; he recalled to the minds of all that in Germany itself a handshake with England could be made popular overnight. He took Hitler at his word that England was near the breaking point and pleaded that the time had come for a negotiated peace in the West.

All the fervor and passion of his Nazi heart came flooding to the surface and nothing on earth could shake his conviction that a golden

For years—thousands upon thousands of Doctors have prescribed Pertussin to promptly relieve bronchial, croupy and night coughs due to colds. This is the same effective yet inexpensive Pertussin you can get today from your drugstore.

Pertussin—a famous herbal remedy—is scientifically prepared to work internally. It acts at once. It not only relieves your coughing spell, but also loosens sticky phlegm and makes it easier to raise.

opportunity lay within grasp. It must not be mishandled; it must not be overlooked. He paced the floor of his home and his office, thinking and planning, desperately seeking for a way to convince the Fuehrer of his viewpoint.

Rumors of Peace Moves
In all those weeks at the beginning of 1940 there came to our ears repeatedly rumors from outside of Germany that Hitler was seeking a new peace. At one time it would be the King of Sweden who had been asked to intervene in London, at another time it would be the Pope or Sven Hedin or even President Roosevelt. Ever and again the ponderous voice and spokesman of Wilhelmstrasse denied any and all intentions of seeking peace.

"Victory must precede all talk of peace from our side," Ribbentrop's mouthpiece and spokesman of the Foreign Office Minister Paul Schmidt pontifically told the foreign press corps in his daily conferences time and again.

"Only the sword can decide now. We offered our enemies peace and compromise time and again and they slapped down our offers. Now we shall fight through to the end, and all talk of peace and compromise is enemy propaganda of which we wash our hands. We must ask you not to commit the blunder of sending such harmful stories from here, lest we be compelled to impose upon you the hardships of censorship."

Hitler Peace Offensive
Therein lay the strength and effect of Hitler's repeated peace offensive. They were launched in devious ways abroad and sharply denied at home. It kept the whole cloaked in nebulous rumor and uncertainty, making people talk and wonder without losing interest. It also served the two-fold purpose of gathering from the four corners of the earth the world's reaction to such a plan and on the other hand camouflage what really went on below the surface of Hitler's great advantage in preparing and carrying out the surprise moves he so dearly loves.

By April, Hess had definitely lost his case, and the attack on Russia had been fixed for April 22, although the Yugoslavian coup against Hitler eventually postponed the war on Russia until June 22.

More than ever Hess had it fixed in his mind that peace with England could come almost simultaneously with war on Russia, and in fact England might even be swung over to moral support of Germany against the Bolshevists.

It seemed all so very logical to him, the expert on England and the friend of all Englishmen. He hated Ribbentrop for thwarting and opposing him, hating him with a cold fury that upset his stomach and irritated the suffering lung and the ragged nerves. His scowl grew deeper day by day; he scarcely heard what people in conversation told him or saw what went on in his own circles.

A wheel was spinning around and around inside his head; his heart was filled with black hatred for arrogant Ribbentrop and with an unquenchable conviction that if only someone like himself could get to talk man to man to influential Englishmen, a great triumph would be achieved.

If the Fuehrer would only consent to arrange a meeting between himself and some high-placed man from London, the war in the west would be over. What a triumph, what a boon to civilization, what glory for the fatherland and the Fuehrer!

(Editor's note: In tomorrow's final instalment, Huss tells how Hess shrewdly arranged for his flight to England in such a manner as to avoid suspicion and how Hitler narrowly escaped seeing his Nazi party crash to bits under its impact.)

While Planes Blast at Malta

Here is the reason why the British island of Malta, in the Mediterranean off Sicily, has been able to stand up under countless air attacks by the Axis. Shown is one of the thirty long underground galleries dug into workable rock where the civilian population sleeps and lives during air raids. Powerful anti-aircraft defenses and a large number of fighter planes have made the fortress impregnable thus far. (Central Press)

Greek-Americans Raising Funds For Red Cross

A sum of $400 was contributed outright Sunday afternoon when Greek-Americans here rallied at St. George's Greek Orthodox church to launch an intensive campaign for the war fund of the American Red Cross.

Today a group of 20 solicited others in homes and in stores in the hopes of boosting the total to $1,500.

Speer Marousis, prominent in Order of Ahepa affairs and chairman of the Sunday meeting, said Supreme President Van A. Nomikos of Ahepa has urged all Greek-Americans to drop all other fund-raising efforts for the Red Cross drive. Marousis said the Greek American community here was responding well.

Pullman Company Would Raise Rates

(International News Service)
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The Pullman Company today petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to raise by 10 per cent its sleeping and parlor car rates.

The action was taken to meet a $6,352,200 increase in operating expenses, accruing from enlarged wages and payroll taxes. With a 10 per cent increase the company said that it expected to increase earnings by $6,127,830.

The increase was proposed in line with petitions from American railroads and the Railway Express Agency for 10 per cent raises in rates due to similar reasons. The wage increases were derived from the recent mediation settlement between labor and the railroads, when labor received an advance in pay rates.

DURHAM, N. C., Jan. 5.—As a result of the tremendous success of the transferred Rose Bowl game, an annual post-season tobacco bowl football game in Duke's fine stadium today, with President Roosevelt's infantile analysis fund sharing in the proceeds. Opposition to establishing such a fixture might stand even in the face of the charity angle involved, but probably would melt upon proper presentation of the idea and lead to building a football fixture second to none in the nation.

All this was learned here today as local citizens looked back upon Thursday's Oregon State-Duke battle with the conviction that Carolina and Duke university had achieved the pinnacle of success in its sports history, and they clung to the hope that the spectacle might become an enduring thing for the state.

The hotel people, the merchants and the townspeople generally would quite naturally fall in behind the proposal as a miniature boom for the town, but in that connection it should be pointed out that Duke is peculiarly nearly among all schools, especially down here, in its astute aloofness to pressure. No post-season game can ever be brought here with coercion. Strange as it may sound, football and all athletics are secondary at Duke, which has been built into a great educational institution and Duke will do nothing to detract from its soaring prestige.

Tobacco Bowl
Furthermore, the Southern conference reportedly would welcome such a fixture to the extent of possibly passing regulations to make its champion the tobacco bowl host and with that not only prevent the Rose Bowl from attracting the best team from down here but at the same time lend further prestige to the Duke attraction.

Under this possible arrangement, the southern host team would be permitted to pick its opponent from over the nation the same as the Pacific Coast conference champion does. Whether Duke would wish for any such rule to be passed is, of course, problematical. Duke might prefer that there be no such mandatory rule.

However, Durham and Duke suddenly realize that this section is up there even with any other part of the country in football, not only in playing ability—a long established fact—but in staging spectacles. The transferred Rose Bowl game was almost a last-minute proposition, yet was handled as smoothly by Coach Wallace Wade and his assistants as any great spectacle ever staged anywhere.

Behind it all, too, there was something more than mere commercialism. Duke university went about this game and the preparations for it determined to make a success of something new for this section and eager to present it as a thing everlastingly to be remembered. They succeeded.

No Alibis Offered
When it was all over, the townspeople had no alibis for the defeat of their really great eleven, and the Duke players themselves suffered only brief moments of bitterness, then did one of the great sporting things of these football times.

They went on over to the Oregon State dressing room, gathered up the entire horde of their conquerors and took them to dinner—to a dinner attended only by the players of the two teams, with no coaches, no newspaper men and no other outsiders present. They can win at Duke, as they generally do, but they can also lose gracefully when they have to. Coach Wade seems to be building something around here besides merely invincible football teams.

As a matter of fact, it seems that he might have built Duke athletics into the one worthwhile bowl game—with the President's fund to be the beneficiary.

Section 20 Race Rolls On Tuesday

County Class B. Basketball Rivals All Eye 1941-42 Championship

Their eyes glued on the championship, Section 20 rivals, all excepting Wampum, East Brook and Princeton, begin their title scramble on Tuesday night.

The Class B, W.P.I.A.L. circuit, New Wilmington, Bessemer, Mt. Jackson, Union Township, Wampum, East Brook and Princeton, looms as another cat and dog scrap all the way down to February 24, the closing date.

Following the customary barnstorming tour, designated to provide desired experience, local rivals are all set for their dribbling caravan.

Brookers Lead

As the teams take the floor, East Brook high is perched in the top seat, by virtue of a pre-season league victory over Wampum high, last season's champion. Wampum is occupying the second slot as a result of a win over Princeton and a setback by the Brookers. The remaining league brothers have not tasted loop action.

The schedule sent to The News shows Shenango Township billed to flip at Princeton, which, by the way, is a newcomer in the league; New Wilmington, reputedly sizzling hot, is carded at Wampum, which plays its home games at Shelby Auditorium in Ellwood City until its own court, now under construction, is completed; East Brook performs on Union Township high's lair and Bessemer invades Mt. Jackson high.

East Brook displayed dynamic power in toppling Wampum and bowling over a list of representatives pre-season foes.

Wampum high, paced by "Coy" Craine, is definitely a major threat in the circuit.

Despite fair success in the round robin tour, Union Township, Mt. Jackson, Shenango and Princeton figure to give their foes considerable trouble, due mainly to the traditional "keep fighting, never give up" spirit.

Bessemer high, sparked by Jack Grubisa, who has been labeled as one of the classiest courtsters developed in the cement and limestone sector, figures predominantly in the race. New Wilmington, as in past seasons, is plenty good.

As in past seasons, county cage addicts can look forward to a winter of topnotch basketball in which the rivals will display a canny defense plus a prolific offense.

Tuesday's Schedule
Shenango at Princeton.
New Wilmington at Wampum.
East Brook at Union.
Bessemer at Mt. Jackson.

Three Westminster Collegians Trappers

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 5.—It's an old Westminster tradition—trapping. And three collegians this year are making it both profitable and a lot of fun in addition.

The three collegians are Dan Melville, of Ligonier, major in chemistry; Al Trafton, of Holmes, New York, biology major; and John Bianchi, Montclair, N. J. biology major.

This season, Bianchi and Trafton have trapped 23 skunks, nine possum, and one weasel; while Melville's haul has been 26 muskrats, caught mostly along streams.

According to trapping laws, the collegians have to go out once every 24 hours to make a check of their trap-lines, which are laid out over a seven-mile stretch, in order to prevent suffering in the traps and loss of animals. The trappers usually take turns going out at six o'clock in the mornings, returning by 9 o'clock.

This is Trafton's ninth year for trapping and the first for Bianchi. Skunk pelts bring the boys from $1.25 to $1.50; muskrat from $1.75 to $2.25; and mink from $6 to $12. The muskrat traps are set in slides along river-banks; mink and weasel traps are baited with parts of uncooked chicken.

Skins are put on boards to dry, with the fur turned inside to expose the skin for drying. After two or three weeks, they are taken to district fur-buyers, chiefly on the outskirts of Mercer.

Occasionally the collegians report stolen traps. Several cats are caught during the season, accidentally—but no dogs.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Joe Louis will weigh 205 to Buddy Baer's 245 when they box Friday night in New York. Louis is giving all his purse, except expenses to Navy relief, Mike Jacobs the promoter is also giving his end. Baer, not yet seasoned in the safety of a bank roll is giving 2 1/2 percent of his purse. The gain to the relief may run as high as $125,000, which is a neat sum going to a deserving cause.

Death has come to Mel Sheppard, 58, former Penn track star and 1,500 meter champion in two Olympic meets. He died yesterday in his Bayside, N. Y. home. He collapsed suddenly.

Now that Santa Claus has departed for his nook in Alaska, basketball re-enters the local sports scene in full blast. Tuesday, the Section 20 title scramble starts. "He'll go out like a light." The man behind this statement is May-erd Brodia who was expounding on Buddy Baer's chances against Joe Louis. Brodia, a well known local athlete, was a Washington resident at the time Louis and Baer staged their first shindig and was among the freight payers. "Baer looked fair. He would have been knocked out later in the fight, giving Baer the benefit of that after the bell episode," Brodia ventured.

Several of the nation's more informed scribes insist that only two mitt slingers went the limit against Joe Louis. Unless our records are topsy, turvy, Tommy Farr, Arturo Godoy and Bob Pastor were in perpendicular position when the final bell tolled. Big Ten grid teams will be permitted to play nine games each in 1943 and '44. Six of the clashes must be with league members.

EAST BROOK

HOLIDAY PARTY
The annual Christmas party of the East Brook U. P. congregation was held on Friday evening in the church basement.

A very pleasing program was presented which included the Christmas story, "The Other Wise Man" followed by a male trio singing "We Three Kings of Orient Are." Miss Carol Reher played "Oh Come All Ye Faithful" on her accordion.

A short social period followed, after which members of the Helping Hand class served a lunch.

EAST BROOK NOTES

Mrs. Nannie Shelenberger spent Christmas with her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Helle in West Pittsburg.

Mrs. Thomas Haley and daughter Dorothy visited on Thursday with Mrs. Nannie Shelenberger.

Stricken Service Men Recovering

(International News Service)

LAKEHURST, N. J., Jan. 5--Stricken by food poisoning, 200 sailors, marines and aviation cadets, were reported recovered today as naval air station officers made a thorough investigation.

The men were stricken after eating at General mess Saturday noon. None was seriously ill. Commander P. C. Sachse, in charge of the station said a full report would have to await analysis of the suspected food. There was no indication of sabotage.

Narrow Range
In Day's Market

Few Changes are Recorded In Prices During Morning Trading

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The stock market drifted over a narrow and irregular price range today as President Roosevelt prepared his annual message on the state of the nation, and Congress reconvened for the second half of the 77th session.

Prices were mixed from the opening and aside from a handful of special issues, changes were meaningless.

American Can was a weak spot, tumbling 2 points to 61 before meeting support. Santa Fe and Owens-Illinois Glass each gave up about a point, while Union Pacific and U. S. Smelting gained as much.

General Motors and Chrysler were appreciably higher, as the motor group responded to news the industry would receive $5,000,000,000 more in armament orders.

Steels, though, were under moderate pressure. U. S. Steel slipped almost a point, while Bethlehem lost a half point.

Elsewhere, fractional gains and losses about offset each other.

Commodities were featured by a runup of $1 a bale in cotton.

Eight Canton Soldiers Wreck Station Wagon Near East McKeesport

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 5.—Saturday night's snow storm spoiled their trip home, but the warm hospitality they found in Pennsylvania made up for it, eight privates from Canton, O., agreed today.

They were enroute home from Fort Eads, Va., in a chartered station wagon, which cost each $18 of his $21 paycheck Friday, for a brief visit when the car crashed into a swerving trailer near East McKeesport. Thus, they were still 100 miles from home and 400 miles from camp.

Roy Davis and his wife invited them in, and when army officers instructed them to get some rest and return to camp, the Davises converted their six-room apartment into a dormitory for the soldiers. The Davises bunked on the kitchen floor.

Early Sunday morning, they turned out and gave the privates a big breakfast, during which they consumed two and a half dozen eggs, two pounds of bacon, two quarts of milk, two cans of orange juice, five pots of coffee and an undetermined amount of cookies and sandwiches.

The soldiers—Alfred C. Ailman, Lester Murnet, William Jones, Elden L. Zurcher, Robert Miller, Roland Oyster, Kenneth R. Stone and Joseph Studeny—agreed that the Davises "certainly treated us swell."

Tire Rationing Program
Is Launched In Nation

By JOHN PAGET
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 5.—The rubber shortage was brought home to Pennsylvania's motorists today as a strict tire rationing program was launched throughout the nation for the first time in the history of the automobile.

Elmer Transeau, state commodity rationing administrator, said that the 422 local rationing boards in Pennsylvania were ready to function immediately.

"Considering the short time allowed to get our organization set up," he declared, "we are in good shape."

January quota for Pennsylvania was assigned by federal authorities, was 6207 tires and 5195 tubes for passenger cars and light trucks, while there will be available for large trucks and buses 14,667 tires and 12,245 tubes.

Transeau said that 50,000 application blanks for new tires and tubes and 40,000 purchasing certificates had been sent to county boards which will distribute them to local boards. He added that arrangements had been made for application blanks to be made available in the future to motorists at post offices, police stations and inspection stations.

The four-page application blank which vehicle owners must complete in order to receive consideration by the boards listed a series of pertinent questions including size of tires, model and year, engine number, reasons for needing tires, and name. The blank points out only the vehicle owners eligible for new tires and tubes under the rationing system. Re-treaded or re-capped tires are not affected by the ban.

Transeau said he had advised local boards to cooperate with the 8000 stations licensed by the state to make the compulsory semi-annual inspections of motor vehicles; for the inspection of tires which applicants seek to replace. A space has been provided on the application blank for the affidavit of the inspecting garageman to certify the need of tires.

Fisher Bros. To Modernize Store

New Front, Interior Changes
Due For Main Downtown
Store

CONTRACTOR STARTS
WORK IMMEDIATELY

The large Fisher Bros. store at 120-122 East Washington street today announced plans for an extensive modernization which include a handsome new store front and lobby and elaborate interior improvements.

A company representative said the renovation work is starting immediately.

The handsome new display windows will have the latest type of fluorescent lighting, and the 35-foot-deep lobby will have a center show-window under the proposed improvements, prepared by the Thayer Co. local architects.

The new front will be of decorative glass and a huge outdoor sign will go up overhead.

The general contract for the work is held by Eckles & Caruthers, another New Castle firm.

The Fisher Bros. official who announced the improvement said plans call for one of the most modern of stores. Twice the firm, in the Genkinger building location since the closing of the old Star theater in 1926, has made major alterations to the building to keep pace with modern store styles.

The company, founded here 30 years ago by Mike, Ed and Dan Fisher, continues under their ownership. It operates 12 other stores in Western Pennsylvania.

Another Fisher Bros. store on the Public Square was given extensive renovation within the past eight months.

The company also announced today that it has acquired a new location for its Erie store and is immediately proceeding with construction of a modern store there.
